Huazhong University of Science and Technology (Main Campus)

The Huazhong University of Science and Technology (HUST) is a national key university directly under the administration of the Ministry of Education of P. R. China, and is among the first universities joining the national "211 Project" and "985 Project". It was founded on May 26, 2000 as a result of the merger of the former Huazhong University of Science and Technology, Tongji Medical University and Wuhan Urban Construction Institute.

At present, the university has 39 academic schools and departments covering twelve disciplines: engineering, medicine, management, science, philosophy, economics, law, education, literature, history, agriculture and art, offering a variety of degree programs, including 93 undergraduate programs, 304 graduate programs, 237 Ph.D programs. There are 31 post-doctoral research centers, 7 national key disciplines, 15 national key sub-disciplines.

Now the University has over 1,000 professors and 1,500 associate professors, including 24 academicians, 65 professors receiving funds from the Cheung Kong Scholars program, 40 winners of National Science Fund for Distinguished Young Scholars, 36 listed in the "National Talents Project" and 135 young scholars listed in "New Century Outstanding Talents Project" of the Ministry of Education.

HUST covers an area of over 1,153 acres and has 72% greenery coverage, which has been honored as the "University in the Forest". HUST has also established partnerships with more than 100 renowned universities and research institutions. Annually over 100 famous scholars and experts come to visit HUST and give lectures. At present, there are almost 57,000 students studying at HUST, including nearly 2000 international students from 119 countries and regions in the world.
